

“I Believe in Angels”

T-Shirts

By JTB Designs™

March 2009

“I Believe in Angels” T-Shirts were inspired by the NBC Nightly News segment “Making a Difference”

One night while I was watching the evening news, I kept seeing all of the compassionate people in our own country going the distance to “making the difference” in other peoples lives who were and are still in need of assistance in many different ways while we are experiencing these very challenging economic times....all of these beautiful people started inspiring me to create these angel t-shirts. I really do believe angels live among us...people with beautiful aspiring angelic qualities helping others when in need.

I hope you will aspire be a part of this beautiful caring, compassionate movement in our universe toward a better world.

At the present time, I have only designed 3 angels for these t-shirts but I do have more to come...please stay tuned in with me to seeing my new designs evolve as time allows me the opportunity to print these new angel t-shirts.
